A year at Walter E. Stebbins is fashioned of many elements, among them tradition, personality, and fortune. For each personality a unique perspective is formed, and it is in this individualism that growth is accomplished. Each day is shaped by countless events, few of which we can control. But one point is inevitable; we, the Unique will add a new dimension to the profile of this school.

The Agony And The Incentive

When a student recalls the first day of any school year, his memories are likely to be anything but pleasant. The bus that did not come, the late summer heat, and the two-hour session in his homeroom are but a few of the miseries associated with a school opening. Yet, each year, it is one of the most eagerly anticipated dates on the calendar. For everyone there are new activities and new friends, and, for some, the added incentive of being a senior.

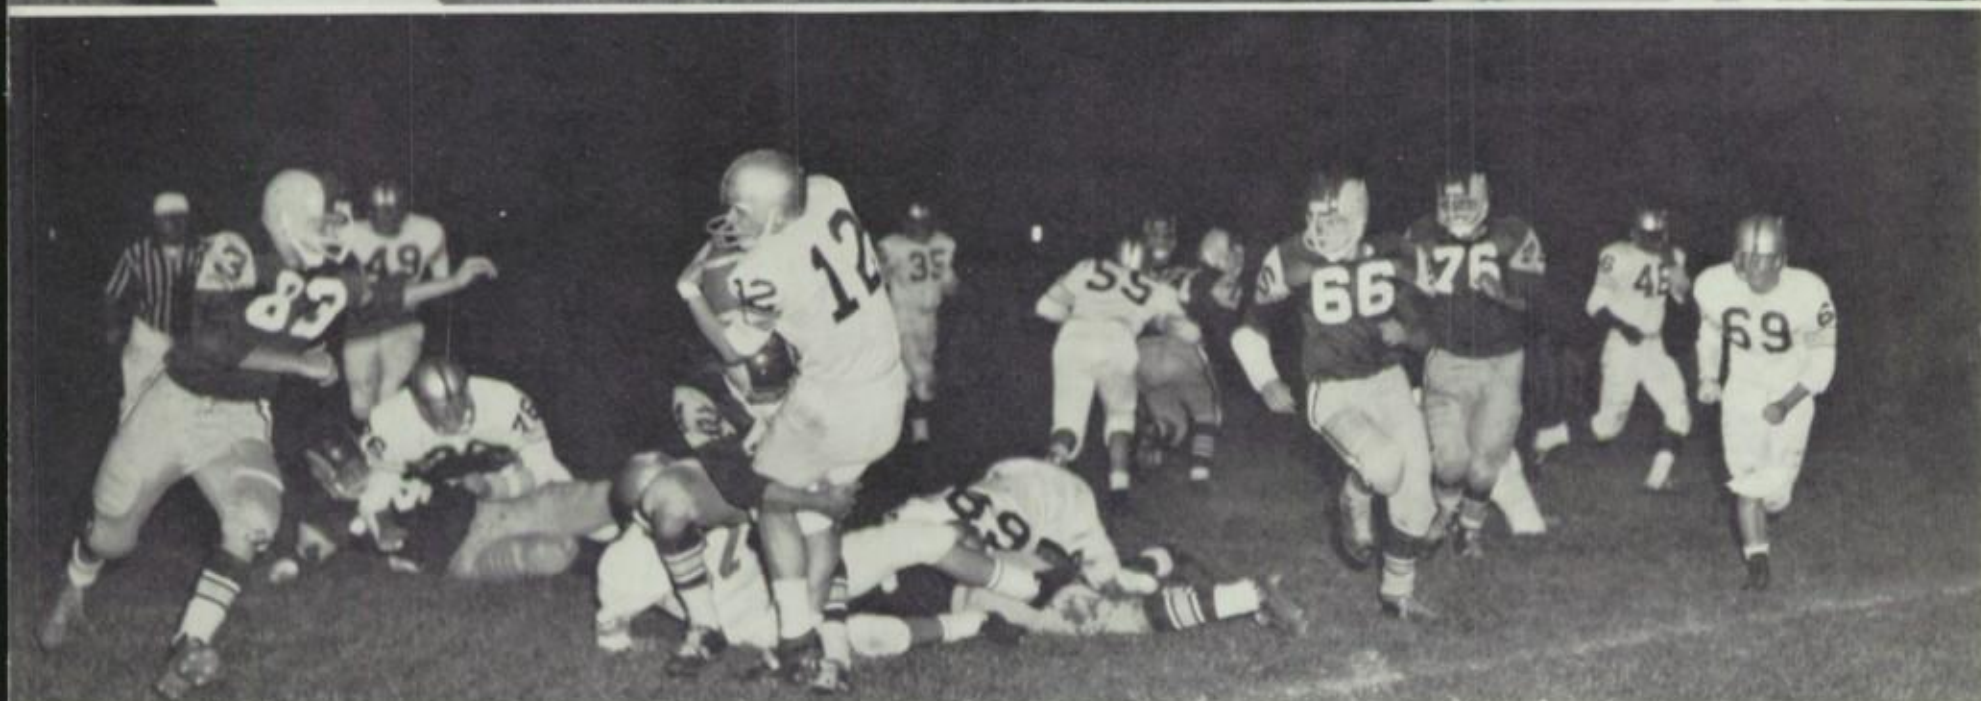

Long to Rankin in the opening game, won by Northmont 12-8.

Taut Faces And Strong Hearts

Several of our players received special recognition. Quarterback Bill Long was chosen as player of the week as a result of making two touchdown passes and two touchdown runs in the Alter game. He was also chosen quarterback for the Greater Dayton All-Star and the Western Ohio League All-Star teams. Guard John McCullough and defensive back Keith Daniels also made the Western Ohio League All-Star Team.

Top: W. Carter, B. Vaughn, W. Donaldson, S. Dunkle.
Lower: A. Lubart, B. Walling.

Harnessing the energies of the entire student body is no simple task. And much of the credit for Stebbins' successful pep assemblies goes to six very active cheerleaders and our own Miss Pep, Dee Dee Ross.

Teen Scene

In mid-November, a team of thirty-nine Stebbins students defeated their Beaver Creek counterparts in a fast-moving quiz game. This match was featured on "Teen Scene," which is a Saturday morning program televised over station WLWD and devoted to Dayton area youth. The victorious panel, which included Jim Hopkins, Jeanne Warner, Grace Franklin, and Craig Hawkins, were awarded engraved medalions. The school received a fifty-four-volume set of The Great Books of the Western World.

The first season of the Western Ohio League saw Stebbins achieve a 4-2-1 record. Our chances for a more outstanding record were hampered by a rash of injuries. Broken bones, hepatitis, dislocations, and the usual assortment of sprains and bruises all served to slow our boys, but never succeeded in getting them down.

Coach Ronald Taylor began the 1964 cross-country season with a young team, the only returning lettermen being Richard Lawhun and Steve Depew. Eager to avoid the inconvenience of holding timings on the Huffman Dam course, Coach Taylor mapped out a two-mile run on the athletic field. With six runners returning next year, the boys are certain to come up with those impressive team victories to complement their outstanding individual accomplishments.

This year John Clemmer led the boy gymnasts in total points scored with $271\frac{1}{2}$ points for the season. The leading female gymnast was Debbie Pitzer, who scored $96\frac{1}{2}$ points during the year. The team was young and energetic, lending support to the belief that Stebbins may expect to have one of the W.O.L.'s best teams in years to come.

Despite the lack of experienced men, the team was victorious in a tri-meet, defeating Fairmont East and Fairview. Mondini took first place honors in both the Beavercreek and Fairmont Invitationals. Stebbins was represented by Mondini and Bill Stine in the State Tournament.

The twenty girls who came out for the 1965 basketball team were formed into varsity and reserve squads, captained by Dee Dee Ross and Beckie Montgomery, respectively. The girls practiced approximately three hours a week. Joan Varn led the scoring with a total of 151 points for the seven game season. Her highest single game tally was 48 points against Northmont. This year's golf team held twenty-one matches at Kitty Hawk and other nearby golf courses. For most of the boys, golf is a new game for which they must practice many hours in order to develop the necessary skill and timing. The team wins only as a result of individual accomplishments. Next year, three returning juniors will add experience to the team. Among them are Jim Kersteiner, this year's Most Valuable Player, and Dennis Daniels, this year's Most Improved player.

Student Council

The purpose of the Student Council is to voice student opinion through elected representatives. This year President Steve Wheeler conducted two open meetings after school in the cafeteria. The discussions covered the smoking problem and school spirit. Throughout the year, the council has busied itself with following up the ideas contributed through its suggestion box. These concerned student privileges, suggested activities, and points for improvement in the operations of various school facilities. The council sponsored several "dress-up" days in hopes of promoting better conduct through better appearances. At the close of sixth period, a most appropriately dressed girl and boy from each class was named.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society endeavors to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of America's secondary schools. Admission to the chapter is a great honor, but the membership is never content to rest on its past laurels. Its motto is noblesse oblige, meaning that much is to be expected of those honored by induction. The honor society annually sponsors the Stebbins Book Fair and operates a coat check during the home basketball games. This year the organization initiated a one hundred dollar merit scholarship to be presented to a worthy college-bound senior.

Great Books Seminar

Each year thirty members of the junior and senior classes are selected to participate in the Great Books Seminar. Once each six weeks they meet with a moderator from an area university to discuss great works of literature. The selections are made by the group's advisors, Mr. Motheral and Mr. Sebouhian. This year J. D. Salinger's The Catcher in the Rye and Albert Camus' The Stranger were among the books covered.

Quill and Scroll is a journalism honor society. The be eligible, a student must maintain a B average, be a junior or senior, and be recommended by the chapter advisor. Above all, the student must have done outstanding work on either the yearbook or the newspaper staff. Linda Priest, Gilda Warren, and Donna Newman (right), were inducted in 1964.

Quill and Scroll

Four years ago Stebbins organized a chapter of The Modern Music Masters, an international music honor society. The purpose of the club is to further music education and appreciation in the community. Proceeds from their various projects, such as bake sales, are used to purchase needed equipment for the music department.

The Smoke Signal won a first place at the 1964 Montgomery County Fair in the category of newspapers produced in their entirety by students. The Journalism II class staffs the paper, and the students from Journalism I act as reporters. The printing is done in our own shop. The paper strives to cover school activities as they occur and promote future events for various organizations. Other features include interviews with the faculty and students, coverage of the latest school fads and fashions, and, of course representative student opinion.

Thespians

For seven years, Troop 1950 of the National Thespian Society has operated at Stebbins, promoting interest in the school's various dramatic presentations. Annually, the Thespians sponsor a Sadie Hawkins dance, for which the girls strive to create the zaniest of corsages for their escorts. Furthering their reputation as the most colorful congregation in the school, the Thespians hold initiations during the school day, featuring the new members in an assortment of old ties, curlers, and painted faces. At the year's close, the society votes to determine the winners of their acting trophies.

National Forensic League

The symbol of the National Forensic League is the combination of the lamp of knowledge, the eye of truth, and the key of learning. Although it is reported that a member will speak at any given chance, he is apt to concentrate his attention on the numerous speech contests in which he must compete. The youngsters are rated for their efforts in the various categories, which span the gap from original oratory to dramatic declamation and debate.

Over the years, Stebbins has had several French language clubs. Unfortunately, none endured and this year Mrs. Burnett and the students of her classes had the task of drafting a constitution literally starting at the beginning with Le Cercle Francais. They had a most successful year in their attempts to encourage Stebbins students to speak the French language and to understand and appreciate French culture. Besides their monthly meetings, they also managed to hold a Christmas party, produce a play, and lunch at Gaston's, a French restaurant and bakerie.

Latin Club

The Latin Club visited the Cincinnati Art Museum and the Museum of Natural History in March. Students from the Latin classes of Mad River Junior High School joined their Stebbins counterparts in presenting the annual Roman banquet. This year's theme was "A Night On Mount Olympus." Chairman for the event was Judy Snyder, a senior.

D. Roust, P. Arganbright, J. Klepper, V. Woods, R. Reichard, R. Siegel, L. Dawson.

Chess Club

The Chess Club was organized to provide a means for boys and girls to improve their skills in the game and to develop good sportsmanship. The supervised practice held during the meetings is put to use in competition with the other schools of the Greater Dayton High School Chess League.

Library Assistants

One of the finest organizations at Stebbins is actually no organization at all. The Library Assistant is a group of students who devote their studyhall period to aiding the librarian. They perform such duties as the mending, shelving, charging and discharging of books, the processing of new books, and filing.

Two years ago some Stebbins boys organized the Auto Club. It is solely for the purpose of the boys own self-enrichment, and is under the direction of Mr. Bennett. After sixth period each Monday, the boys can be found doing such preventive maintenance as the installation of a muffler or the adjustment of a carburetor.

Projectionist Club

The Audio-Visual Aid program at Stebbins has been greatly enhanced by the Projectionist Club. Now in its seventh year of operation, the organization meets twice a month under the guidance of Mr. Waselewski. Its purpose is twofold: to provide trained operators for the school's equipment and to provide the maintenance for that equipment. The meetings are held after school and are for instructional purposes.

Future Homemakers

Activities of the F.H.A. include parties, teas, service projects, and meetings featuring guest speakers. At the regional and state meetings, the girls meet new people and become acquainted with new program ideas. Annual events are the Mother-Daughter Tea, a bake-off with the members of the Boys' Foods Classes, and a fashion show of styles made and modeled by the girls themselves. For their work in the organization, the girls are eligible for Junior, Chapter, and State Homemaker Degrees.

Art Club

The Art Club provides an opportunity for students interested in art to do individual work as well as work for the school. Their meetings are sometimes conducted by guests who demonstrate or speak about various fields of artistic expression. One such guest was Mr. Bert, who demonstrated the potter's wheel. The work the students do may be submitted to art shows, making them eligible for scholastic art awards.

Future Medical Careers

The Medical Science Club promotes interest in the many careers of the field of medicine. A typical meeting may include a guest speaker, a movie, or work on a service project. One project was the making of a "party box," which the members filled with games and favors to be used by patients at the WPAFB hospital. Annually, the group attends the Medical Careers Seminar at the University of Dayton.

Future Nurses helps prepare girls for a career in nursing by giving them pertinent information on this subject. Service is one of their most important activities. They staged a Christmas program at the United Missionary Home in New Carlisle and during Easter they entertained disabled children at local hospitals. Throughout the year they have had guest speakers, often doctors and nurses, and have attended teas given by nearby hospitals and nursing schools.

The F.B.L.A. aids in developing competent, aggressive business leaders by strengthening the confidence of young men and women in themselves and in their work, by fostering interest in the intelligent choice of business occupations, and by the improvement and establishment of standards for store and office occupations.

Future Business Leaders of America

The Future Teachers of America, established in 1958, hopes to promote interest in the teaching profession. In April, "Teaching Careers Month," the F.T.A. planned a small coffee break for the faculty and placed an apple in each teacher's mailbox. Throughout the year, the members aid the faculty by grading papers. High point of the year is the day when the members go to the various elementary schools and to aid the teachers in the classroom.

Office Workers

Each year a number of students are privileged to serve as office helpers. Mrs. Marcella Shwartz, school secretary, feels strongly that such work experience is valuable training for a later position. Why? Simply because she received her earliest training in the same manner. Two students work each period: one runs errands, the other handles the telephone calls. The students become helpers through their own request or by invitation. Should one need to study for a period rather than work, he need only make his desire known.

The purpose of the Y-Teens is to help the young woman to grow as a person, to grow in fellowship, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God. Service projects figured heavily in this year's program, two of the more interesting ones being the purchase of books as Christmas presents for the children at Central School and the purchase of mirrors hung in the ladies' lounge at Stebbins. Other activities included an assembly and tea for foreign exchange students, co-sponsored by J.C.O.W.A., and the annual Y-Teen Formal. One of the nicest aspects of being a Y-Teen is the opportunity to participate in an organization with a city-wide scope.

Hi-Y

The Christian ideals of the Y.M.C.A. guide the boys in their selection of activities. Each year the boys are invited to attend a retreat at Camp Kern, and to contribute to the city-wide world service pledge. There are leagues composed of the various Dayton clubs for baseball, basketball, and tennis.

The constitution of the Junior Council on World Affairs states its purpose as such: "... to foster an interest in and to promote better understanding of contemporary world affairs" The chapter participates in and aids in the planning of the activities of the adult Dayton Council on World Affairs. Each year the High School Institute acquaints the membership with a particular world area for study. This year the Institute was held in December, and the topic was Latin America. At the February Model General Assembly, Stebbins students played a major role by representing the majority of the Communist bloc. Late in the year, seven seniors participated in a study tour, spending a week in Washington, D.C., and New York. Awards and certificates were presented at a Smorgasbord at the year's end.

G.A.A.

The high point of the year for members of the Girls' Athletic Association came with the spring campout at Bayview Lodge at St. Mary's. The girls stayed overnight, playing ball, hiking, and singing songs around a campfire. At the campout's conclusion there was an awards banquet. During the year, the G.A.A. participated in leagues for field hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, and bowling. A $100 scholarship was awarded senior Dee Dee Ross on the basis of personality, attitude, and excellence in all of the G.A.A. sports.

Mascots

The young ladies selected as mascots hold their positions throughout their high school years. They perform at every football game, basketball game, and pep assembly. Their costumes are hand-beaded felt, and their war bonnets were fashioned by the first "Indian maidens" to grace the Stebbins gymnasium with their now familiar dance. They move to the strains of "Buckeye Battle Cry" and "War Dance," a number composed for them by Mr. Robert Johnson.

Cafeteria Hostesses

The banquets held at Stebbins High School are served by a staff of student volunteers. The girls are under the guidance of Mrs. Noveal Crosthwaite and Mrs. Charlotte Smolinski. They set the tables, serve the food, supply the guests with fresh coffee and tea, and often clean up afterward.

Cheerleaders

The varsity cheerleaders attended Camp Valley Vista near Bainbridge, Ohio. There they spent five days with over three hundred other girls and boys, learning new techniques and developing a few new cheers for use during the basketball and football seasons. In addition to actively participating at the major sporting events, the girls also encourage school spirit by being present at wrestling matches which often lack the huge following they so obviously deserve.

Band

J. Connor

T. Cochran

As a marching unit, the Stebbins High School Band participated in contests at Tipp City, Fairborn, and the Montgomery County Fair, all this in addition to their regular half-time performances and "On Parade" show. In March these musicians, who have switched to concert pieces, enter state contests as soloists, as members of ensembles, and as members of a concert band. The Ohio Music Education Association rates the performances on a scale from I (superior) to V (poor). This year all Stebbins participants received I's and II's.

Drill Team

Co-captains C. Perry and C. Chambers flank Captain M. Frazell.

The Stebbinnettes perform drill and dance routines during the halftimes of football and basketball games. The drill team not only provides entertainment, but also gives the school spirit a big boost by sporting red and grey during game days and cheering as a unit during the games. This year the Stebbinnettes marched in the Huber Heights Fourth of July Parade and in the Washington's Birthday Parade downtown. The girls learn all of the year's routines at Band Camp at the end of August. As hostesses for the annual baton twirling and drill team contest held at Stebbins, the girls received a loving cup from the Band Parents Association.

Orchestra

The Stebbins Orchestra is a growing concern, now boasting nearly twenty string pieces and fifteen woodwinds. The members are not required to study with private instructors. Anyone who is interested in improving his orchestral skills is eligible for membership. The orchestra practices daily, in preparation for its two annual concerts and numerous other appearances. The group is now being represented in the Dayton Philharmonic Training Orchestra by Sam Burns, violin; Kyle Zaidan, bass violin; and Jack Chapman, French horn.

Choir

Like their counterparts in the band, the members of the Choir enter state contests under the auspices of the Ohio Music Education Association. The categories are solo, ensemble, and concert choir. The group has performed at churches and for social assemblies, but the major project of the year is the musical. Although anyone is eligible to enroll in the chorus, membership in the Choir is by invitation only.

Dance Band

Any member of the music department is eligible to play with the Dance Band, but he may join only by invitation. The organization has performed at county

P.T.A. meetings, dances, and at the annual Bonds for Brains program. The money earned by the band is donated to the treasury of the music department.

Distributive Education

The symbol of the Distributive Education Club of America is a diamond with a package in the center. The points of this diamond represent vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence, and leadership development. The members of this organization are instructed in sales management, merchandising, and marketing. Their activities have included providing foodstuffs for families at Thanksgiving, adopting families at Christmas, and assisting with the Firemen's Banquet. Two annual events are the employer-employee banquet and the selection of the Distributive Education Student of the Year.

The Work Study Program in Special Education is based on the promise that each individual is entitled to the special type of training that will develop his potentialities to the fullest.

The completion of one year of successful work experience is a requirement for graduation. In cooperation with the pupil's parents and teachers, the work coordinator places the pupil in the job for which he is best suited. During the training period emphasis is placed on knowledge, skills, and experience, rather than monetary gains.

Diversified Cooperative Education

Every boy interested in learning a skilled trade is accepted under the D.C.T. program. He is graded by his teachers at school and his employer, and receives three credits for the completion of the requirements they set. The jobs range from graphic arts to electronics to auto mechanics. At the state Vocational Industrial Clubs convention, Jackie Hawkins was honored.

Every Friday throughout the year, the girls of the Stebbins Cooperative Office Education meet to discuss the problems stemming from office employment and to plan their various activities. The primary purpose of this organization is to train better office workers, but other things demand the girls' attention: selecting the Cooperative Office Education Girl of the Month, planning an annual banquet, organizing bake sales, and this year, assisting the Distributive Education Club with its Christmas project.

The Board Of

The Mad River Township Board of Education is composed of eight outstanding members of the community, elected for terms of four years each. The Members meet not less than once a month to plot a course for Stebbins High School and the seven other schools in our district. Some responsibilities are to maintain the buildings and their sites, to construct new schools, to hire teachers and other personnel, and to secure funds for operational expenses. These men can see the results of their labor in the well educated students that are found within the Township.

Education

Our Principal

Mr. Orville Edmundson holds degrees from West Virginia Wesleyan and the University of Pittsburgh. He excelled throughout his school years athletically as well as academically, having been chosen All-American in football. Mr. Edmundson has been the head of Walter E. Stebbins since 1957 when the school opened. It is his place to supervise Walter E. Stebbins as a separate society and provide an atmosphere conducive to study and intellectual advancement. He realizes that the ideas conceived and the habits developed during the school years will remain with each of the students for the rest of their lives.

"There's a Parkmoor Drive-In near you"

CRUSADE FOR SAFETY . . .

If everyone who drives a car could lie a month in bed,
With broken bones and stitched up wounds, or fractures of the head,
And there endure the agonies that many people do,
They'd never need preach safety any more to me or you.

If everyone could stand beside the bed of some close friend,
And hear the Doctor say, "No hope," before that fatal end,
And see him there unconscious, never knowing what took place,
The laws and rules of traffic I am sure we'd soon embrace.

If everyone could meet the wife and children left alone,
And step into the darkened home where the sunlight shone,
And look upon the vacant chair where Daddy used to sit,
I'm sure each reckless driver would be forced to think a bit.

If everyone who takes the wheel would say a little prayer,
And keep in mind those in the car depending on his care,
And make a vow, and pledge himself to never take a chance,
The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance.

The profile of a school is shaped by the backdrop of a year's trials and good times, hopes and disappointments, fears and fulfillment.

Tom
Best wishes in all you do.
Bud Stampfer

For 1
that wishes to a funny sweet guy.
